Guenon himself arrived in Paris. Called here on business of a private nature, he readily set aside everything to place himself at the disposal of your honorable body. After many disappointments, he came to ask of you a public expression of your approbation, and of the country, on exhibition of national gratitude for a discovery surrendered without reserve to the common good, when he might have kept his secret to himself, with its certain emoluments. A just love of celebrity, perhaps even the vague hope of a recompense proportioned to the service he had rendered the country, brought him...
