Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Fredericksburg: A Guide to Its Points of Interest The visitor to Fredericksburg to-day finds, instead of the easy-going town of ante-bellum days, an entirely new place risen from the ruins of war and time, a modern city of new buildings, up-to-date streets and other improvements. The object of this little book is to furnish to the traveler facts in the history of Fredericksburg, its many places of interest as well as up-to-date guide to the city, and to extend to all a welcome to Fredericksburg. The exact time the site of what is now Fredericksburg (was visited by white men is not known, but the general impression is that the first trip was in 1608 (one year after the landing at Jamestown). Capt. John Smith, the true founder and father of Virginia, with a crew of twelve men and an Indian of a Potomac tribe for a guide, came to the falls of the Rappahannock just above where Fredericksburg was afterward located, and had a severe fight with the Rappahannocks, whom I he described as the most courageous and formidable savages he had yet encountered. The early history of Fredericksburg is full of events along the general history of the country, it being a center of trade, the river being wider and deeper than at the present day, and ocean-going barges and schooners, laden with cargoes from the West Indies, Liverpool and other ports came to Fredericksburg, and took on for their return voyage consignments of tobacco and wheat to English and Scotch merchants. A fort was maintained near the falls of the Rappahannock, I and with 250 men the town was legally founded in...
